The CERC Difference

Properly Trained. Properly Insured. A Better Choice.

When something goes wrong on a jobsite and an environmental incident occurs, a Certified Environmentally Responsible Contractor (CERC) will not only be trained to mitigate the risk, they have insurance coverage to protect you as the owner. See below for a breakdown of minimum certification requirements:

Minimum Insurance	CERC	Other Contractors
CPL Policy with $1 Million Limit Minimum	✓	TBD when a problem arises
1st & 3rd Party Transportation Coverage	✓	TBD when a problem arises
Mold Coverage	✓	TBD when a problem arises
Non-Owned Disposal Sites (NODs) Coverage	✓	TBD when a problem arises
Blanket Primary & Non-Contributory	✓	TBD when a problem arises
Natural Resource Damage Coverage	✓	TBD when a problem arises

Pollution Prevention Training	CERC	Other Contractors
Asbestos, Mold & Lead-Based Paint	✓	TBD until on the job
Chemical Storage	✓	TBD until on the job
Hazardous & Solid Waste Management	✓	TBD until on the job
Utility Locating	✓	TBD until on the job
Fugitive Dust Control & Stormwater Management	✓	TBD until on the job
Responding to Spills	✓	TBD until on the job
Vehicle & Equipment Washing	✓	TBD until on the job
Bacteria & Viruses	✓	TBD until on the job

Owners are putting their projects in good hands by hiring a CERC. Visit c-e-r-c.com to learn more.